ELKTON — The Cecil County Public Library's Elkton Branch is hosting their third annual Book Lovers Market this Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in a celebration of books and authors at 301 Newark Ave.

"It's become a fantastic tradition of inviting authors and vendors as well as hosting a used book sale by the Friends Foundation, and the community seems to really look forward to and enjoy it," Frazier Walker, Communications and Development Manager at Cecil County Public Libraries, said.

The Friends Foundation is a non-profit supporting CCPL through funding and special projects, like providing used books for this event. The foundation's tote bags will also be available for purchase to fill to the brim with as many books that you can fit for only $20. Of course, books can also be purchased individually, ranging from 50 cents to $3.

Vendors at the market include book sculptors, potters, bookmakers, and more. Nearly 20 local authors will also be there, eager to discuss the art of storytelling and uncovering what lies between the pages.

Walker mentioned that the fundraiser not only engages the community and their love of books, but also supports authors and offers great Christmas gifts.

If you can't make it to the Book Lover's Market, you can sponsor a book in someone's honor or memory here.

Walker hopes to empty out the stock at the used book sale, so that everyone who comes in leaves with a book to take home.
